

ACES GOES HOLLYWOOD!

O'cademy Awards Demonstrate Red Carpet Treatment for the Constitutional Amendments!

Hollywood came to ACES when Mr. Ostrick's 7th grade Civics students' engaged in a "Red Carpet" project designed to further students' knowledge and understanding of the 27 Constitutional Amendments, while incorporating the movie magic glamour of HOLLYWOOD'S Academy Awards. Students were given a constitutional amendment and a month to create a power point presentation and short video explaining their amendment through a skit. Students engaged with their teams to creatively explain the amendments in film productions that included high-tech special effects, music and top notch acting. Student presentations were then critiqued by teachers and voted on by classmates for the best performances for various categories such as "Best Actor," Best Actress," "Best Original Screenplay," "Best Cinematography" and "Best Costume Design." The nominees were invited to attend the "Red Carpet" O'cademy Awards event with last year's winners presenting the gold Oscar-like academy awards to this year's new winners. The excitement in the room was electric as students eagerly waited for the results.
